Scott Racusin Named Vice Chairman at Large for the California Bankers Association

SACRAMENTO – The California Bankers Association (CBA) today announced that Scott Racusin, president & CEO of Wedbush Bank, was recently elected to serve as a vice chairman at large during the 2013-2014 year for California’s largest banking trade association.

“We are pleased to welcome Scott Racusin as a member of our executive committee with his nearly four decades of leadership experience within the California banking community,” said Rodney K. Brown, president and CEO of CBA.

Racusin has been in the financial services industry for 39 years. Prior to joining Wedbush Bank in February 2007, he served as the executive vice president and manager of Advisory Services for Citizens Business Bank in Ontario, California. He also served in many banking capacities that include creating a private bank at Union Bank of California and chartering the first Office of the Comptroller Currency approved full-service internet bank, AeroBank.com in 1999.

Racusin has served as a member of the CBA’s board of directors since June 2011, and he currently serves as chairman of the Federal Government Relations Committee. ### About the CBA

Established 122 years ago, the California Bankers Association (CBA) is one of the largest state banking trade associations in the country. CBA leads the way in developing relevant educational and legislative solutions to some of California’s more pressing financial and banking issues, including financial empowerment, identity theft, financial privacy, and financial elder abuse. CBA’s membership includes the majority of California’s commercial, industrial and community banks and savings associations.
